I. Reflections

What were the most useful experiences?

- It is always interesting to hear inputs from Partners about the situation in their countries and to compare and contrast this with your own experience.
- It was useful to hear the short updates from partners at the start of the meeting and this helped to put the following discussions in perspective
- It was good to discuss the High Level Report on Literacy in the context of the Basket partnership and to begin to think about the implications for the Basket report and recommendations.
- As the partners get to know each other better it is easier for people to argue / debate issues in more depth
- Plans for the on-line debate were discussed and this should give us a practitioner perspective that will be useful in formulating/ evidencing the final recommendations
- A fruitful and lively meeting that laid the groundwork for more focused discussion on the final report and recommendations which we will cover in the last two meetings in 2013.
