I. Reflections

This was a different meeting since we spent a lot of time on discussing and working on the recommendations.

Since we didn't have so much input (presentations) during this meeting, we will focus on what we found most useful during the work on the recommendations.

We did quite a lot of progress on the recommendations. The MoSCoW method on the second day was very efficient, and we were forced to make choices and decisions which we needed to do at this stage and before the last meeting in Budapest.. During the previous meetings we have had a lot of input and also discussed the recommendations.

On the first day of the meeting, Simona Sava presented "System of Initial and Continuing Education for Adult Learning Professionals in Romania" and the elements of the system (institutions, access, qualification- qualification paths/ certification, career steps - standards, curriculum, training offers for CPD, policy measures to stimulate participation into CPD, quality assurance, financing and research) were useful as a quality check. By relating to the elements of the system we could more easily see if our recommendations cover all relevant aspect of teacher training.

The model for policy brief will also be useful to structure the final product, with a list of recommendations and a description of the situation of adult teacher training and the importance of the problem.
